"On Location"

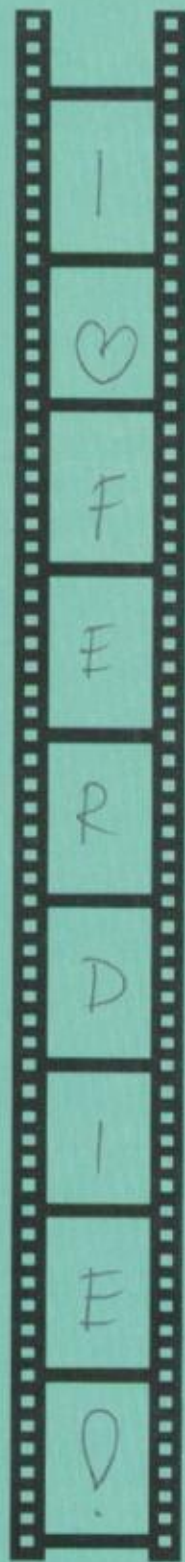

Pearl City High School
2100 Ho'oki'eki'e Street
Pearl City, Hawaii 96782
Volume XVII

Perfection does not blossom in the first take. In the world of motion picture production, many, many countless hours of hard labor, line repetition, and sincere "stick with it" craftsmanship are required before that magic called "film" can be breathed into life. A movie is a wishing well, that pot of gold at the rainbow's end so desired by men, which enables us to burst free from the dull, monotonous sphere of reality and our ordinary daily lives to experience the impossible dreams and childhood wishes that molded our early lives. Long sessions of set building, scene rehearsals, and actor orientations are the source from which the dream-makers of Hollywood draw their material in order to help us actualize our fantasies.

In the same way, we aspire to become the dream-makers of Pearl City High School. The first steps we take are often hard. We are confronted by the initial coldness of a new environment with different rules, organizations, new faces, and a sense of "largeness." We are confronted by unfamiliar policies and conditions such as tardy sweeps, lock-outs, and, perhaps, teacher strictness. But we soon come to know this unfamiliar place with its dark walls and its unending stairs. It becomes our home, our power source from which we draw our energy in order to escape the confines of earth and to soar among the stars. We are "On Location" for four short years. Our beautiful campus, our faculty, and that undefinable quality called spirit serve as the foundation stone of our dreams, and we aspire for that individual star that will represent our own success and achievements.

THAT'S... SHOW BIZ!..

1: Many students drive to school or catch a ride from friends and just hang out in the parking lot before the morning classes begin. 2: For other students, a ride from mom or dad brings them to yet another day of school. 3: Those students who have not gotten their driver's license or their own car yet, must rely on the school bus to get them to classes on time. 4: After a long day of school, Cyd Anzai and Vicki Fujita find it a relief when the last bell of the day rings. 5: Juniors Travis Hamada, William Pinkston, Jae-Ho Sung, and Craig Matsushige enjoy the few minutes they have left before the first bell rings. 6: Junior Amy Vergara and Seniors Wendy Suzuki, and Deborah Saito walk around campus after arriving at school.

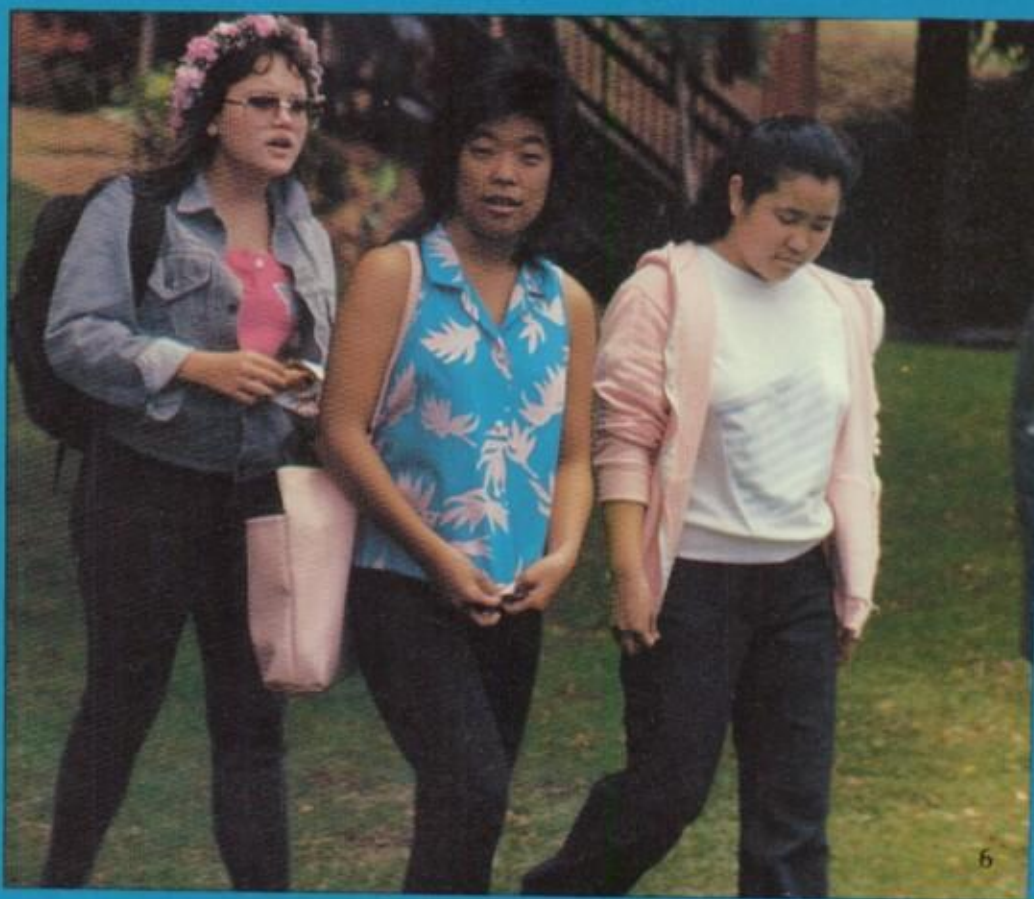

Arriving On The Set

The dreamers of life often follow a far, solitary path in pursuit of their "star in the pavement." The future stars of PCHS are no exception. Like Hollywood's hopefuls who spend their last dime or dollar on a chance, we too must somehow make the trek to our own city of dreams.

Although the distance we are forced to travel may be less than that of our comrades in Hollywood, it is still a formidable challenge for a student to accept and take in stride. The dream city responds to our plight and helps alleviate the situation by sending a fleet of bus carriers to our aid. Some of us gratefully respond and use this means to make the trip. Others pool their every possible resource, and manage to gain allies in willing parents or friends. Some lucky souls travel in style, like famous celebrities who arrive in their plush, luxurious limousines. On the opposite extreme, there are the unlucky souls, cursed by life, to journey towards their city of dreams on foot.

All are bonded by a common dream, a desire to reach the world of "high school" which will pave the way towards the realization of their greatest fantasies, just as Hollywood does for the lucky few who survive the journey.

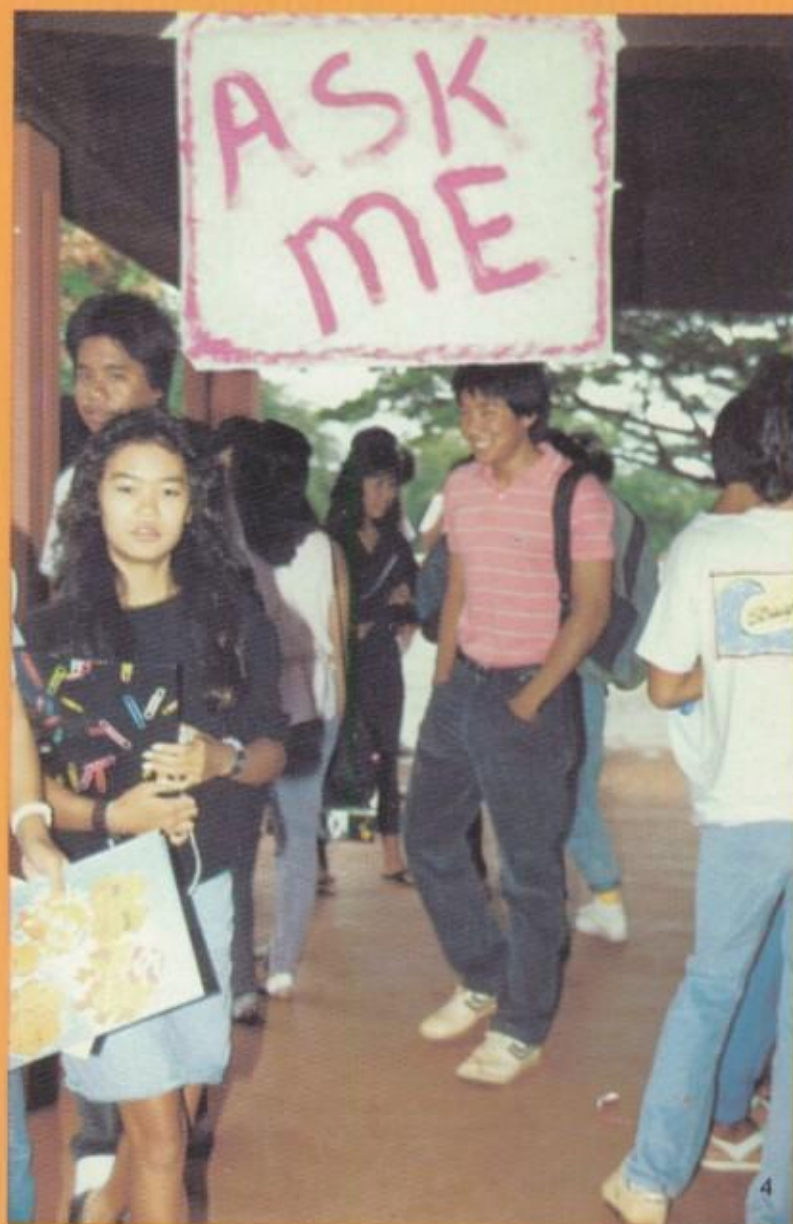

First Take

At last the journey to the city of dreams has been completed. The welcome banners are out. New acquaintances are made on the set, while others are renewed. The day is a blur of new faces, new costumes, new props, and a great deal of confusion. Scripts are handed out, and the people run through them for the first time. Enthusiasm runs high. Everything is fresh, alive, and exciting. The arduous rehearsals and retakes still have not begun. It is the first take of a new movie, the first day of a new school year.

THAT'S OOOO SHOW BIZ!..

1: Sheri-Lynn Maeda lugs her books to her next class hoping they don't fall. 2: Students from the Sophomore Class hold up banners on the first day of school to welcome back students. 3: Seniors, Lea Kwon, Stephanie Hino, and friend look over their notes after a long lecture. 4: Students from the student council volunteer to help new students find their rooms on the first day of school. 5: Freshmen girls Janice Nerona, Lisa Shishido, Lainie Yoshida, Melanie Kimura, and Jeri Eguchi give some inspiration to those students who dread the first day of school.

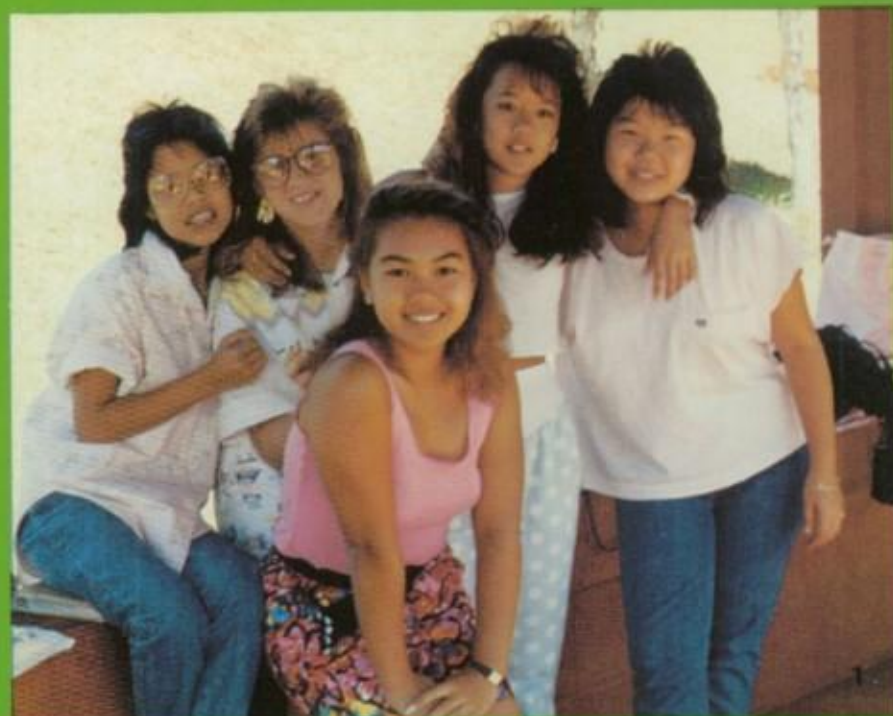

Quiet On The Set

After the initial excitement, the real work begins, and we confront and successfully overcome the pitfalls of our individual classes. We may get off to a rocky start, but our relationships tend to smooth out as we settle into a new schedule.

The ringing of the lunch bell interrupts our hard work or quiet reverie. School lunches — always a subject of student focus — loom over our existence like a great big Stay-Puff Marshmallow Man. Thousands of rampaging teens rush into the undersized cafeteria only to learn that the pizza has been sold out. Forced to choose between eating yesterday's turkey sandwich or going on a hunger fast, we learn to accept — and even enjoy — what the cafeteria has to offer us.

Through it all, we fight desperately to retain our sanity and lay the foundation for our future career plans and goals in life. We create our own special hideaways on campus, socializing in such secret places like KLM stairs, B401, the "B-G" room, AB courtyard, A302, and, perhaps the most mysterious places of all, the bathrooms!

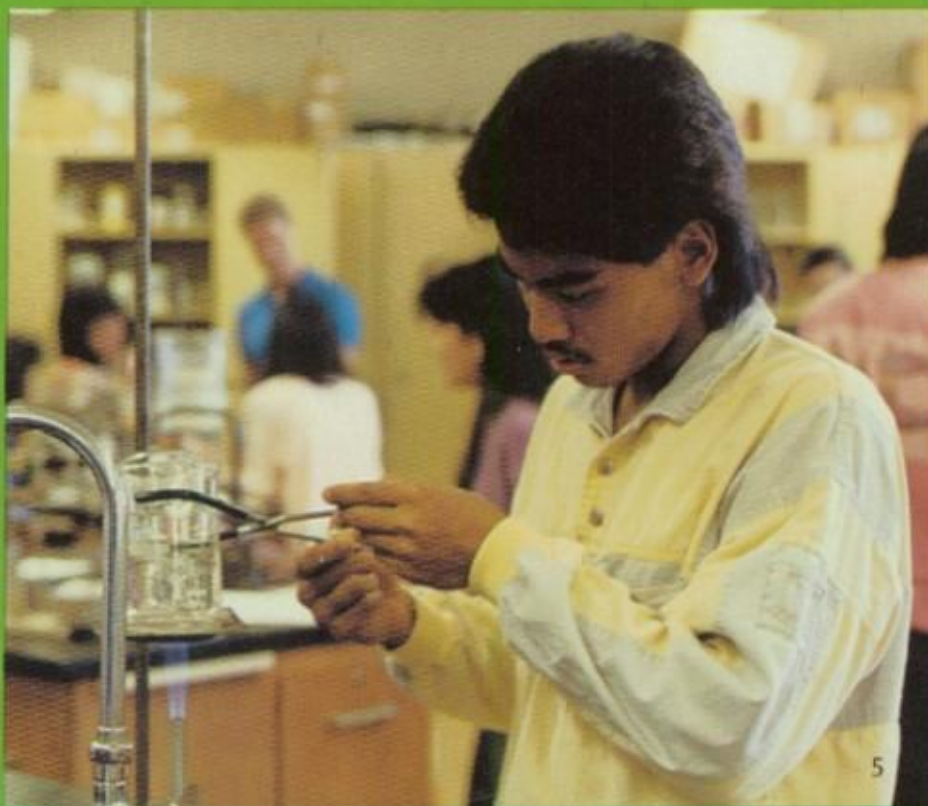

Yes, after the first few months, we begin to adjust to and positively react with the "set" of PCHS, and we open our minds to an unparalleled experience of academics, socializing, athletics, and leadership.

1: Movie celebrities, too, have their own personal hideaways. As seen here, this cheerful group of friends stick by one another by the library. 2: Just as refreshments are sold at cinemas, students can also purchase "goodies" at the school cafeteria. In this picture, Abby Zarkou and Carolyn Taniguchi prepare to quench their thirst by buying a shake from Rachelle Ikari. 3: Working together as a team is necessary for the production of a movie or . . . an experiment. Here, Tracey Nakashima, Lyann Yamashiro, Jeri Eguchi, and Joy Nekomoto conduct a delicate science experiment in Mr. Hudson's class. However, Shawn Bannister and Sam Lucas think otherwise as they are engrossed in a game. 4: Conversing with each other, Tracy Smallwood and friend gossip about the latest movies on the walkway of KLM buildings. 5: A common occurrence in sci-fi flicks is the strange potions that a mad scientist concocts. Creating his own brew, "Dr." Percy Ducosin does the same in his science class. 6: Changing sets is a normal part in movie-making. A five-minute passing period is just enough time for students to transfer to their next class.

Constantly striving to uphold its title as the "city where dreams are realized," Hollywood labors day in and day out to deliver to a global community an escape and a friendly reassurance from the pressures of reality. Here at PCHS, the student and class councils strive to emulate what Hollywood accomplishes, namely the fulfillment of dreams and gaining of indestructible optimism. Through sincere planning and efforts of the part of our elected officers, assemblies and pep rallies, the backbone upon which class and school spirit is built, are undertaken regularly. Giving students a break from the routine of academics, they present the student body with an opportunity to engage in friendly competition between classes. Dances, always one of the high points of a teen's golden high school years, encourage the development of social skills, school pride, and just plain FUN! In addition to these, other potentially beneficial and fun activities include Homecoming and Mayfair. The results are opportunities to escape and dream.

1: Natanya Wolfe looks over at the competition as she tries to gobble down her piece of pie during the 1987 Mayfair. 2: Seniors Dean Hamane, Dennis Kusakabe, Kory Kuhns, Hilton Kitamura, James Kaneshiro, and Wade Yamanaha take a little breather at the Mayfair dance. 3: Kristine Shiraishi and members of the Senior Class enjoy the entertainment that is provided for them. 4: Joong-Dyo Hong and James Bowlds get ready to devour slices of pizza in an eating contest. 5: A few Juniors look amused at the 1st Pep rally of the year. 6: Mark Hirokawa helps to put up banners for an assembly to show the pride of the Junior class. 7: Kristie Cruz gets her hair colored by Senior Angelique Dioguardi at one of the many Mayfair booths.

F E R D I E V

1: The use of props and costumes is necessary in the movie industry. Here, Shannon McLeod and Andrea Mitte plan their Halloween costumes at Jenai's in Pearlridge. 2: After working for hours on a film, actors need to take time out for lunch. At the Pearlridge Food Court, "actresses" Alison Kimura and Leila Ching break for a hearty meal after shopping. 3: When celebrities "go out on the town," they try to make themselves look ordinary. Perhaps Bertram Rellin and friends are incognito to prevent mobs of PC fans from attacking them. 4: High-tech automobiles are used frequently in most adventure films to help the good guys beat the bad guys. Concentrating intensely, "Agent PC," alias Amy Vergara, maneuvers through a high-speed chase at the Pearlridge Fun Factory. 5: After finishing a late-night movie, actors consume delicacies at various eating establishments. Diner's, a favorite of many, is a place to find a group of friends dining together.

Take Five

After the final scene, the dream-makers' exhausted bodies and minds plead for a much needed retreat to recuperate the senses before the next project is undertaken. We, too, must often take a much needed retreat away from school and academics in order to retain our physical and mental health. In order to keep up our top conditions, we partake in fulfilling activities outside of schoolwork, such as being with our friends, going places, or just plain kicking back and zoning out. Friends are probably the single most important element which helps us stay sane. Together with the rest of the gang, we cruise through various places on the island in search of fun. The tamer-hearted of us, however, decide to watch television, especially everyone's favorite channel, MTV. Music, always the backbone of a normal teenager's existence, becomes our "power juice." By turning up the volume of our favorite melodies, we feed our minds and reinvigorate our spirits. Armed with a fresh enthusiasm sponsored by our R and R, we can now face the challenges of high school vigorously and make our years of education here the best.

Final Wrap

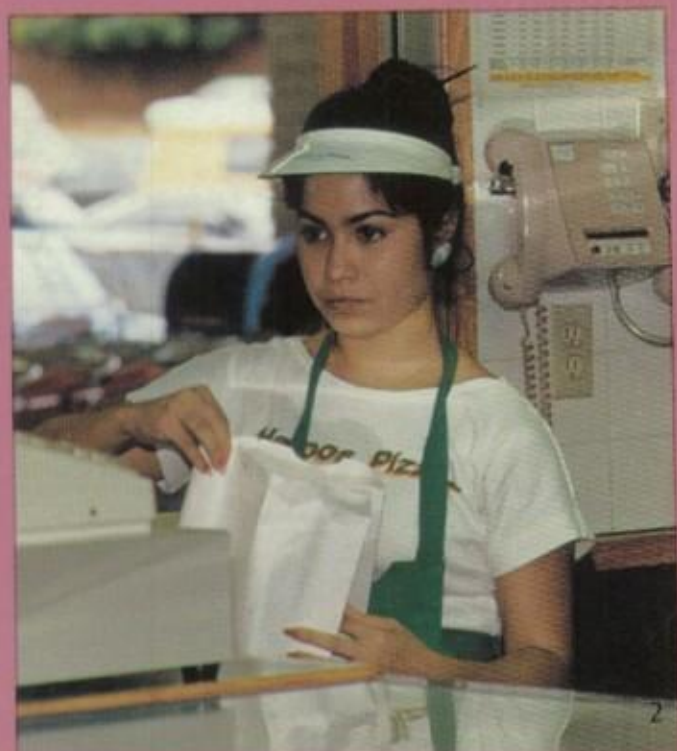

Life does not end at the 2:20 bell. Our students can be found in a variety of locations. Many spend afterschool hours working at part time jobs. The money is, of course, welcome and will pay for many extras. But more than the money is an opportunity to rehearse for that most important role when we'll be on our own.

Final wrap — there are no more scenes to be shot, no more props to gather, no more lines to learn and rehearse. The actors, the director, and the production crew have all done their part, but the film is still not complete. The film editor takes over and creates a final montage of sights and sounds.

In the same way, graduation marks the end of the film entitled, "High School Days." The students move through their final scene with mixed emotions — pride, relief, sadness, confusion, joy, and apprehension. The "Alma Mater" is sung for the last time. The caps are thrown into the air. The graduates are surrounded by flowers, smiles, and tears. (Fade out.)

The curtains part and the music rises. There's a new image on the screen, "Pearl City High and Beyond." The sequel has a new location and some of the characters are different. The magic doesn't end. The dream lives on.

1: Academy Awards Night is one of the greatest events for actors and actresses. But for high school students, to make it to graduation is just as important as receiving an Academy Award. 2: Working in a fast-food restaurant is one of the varied beginnings to becoming a "star." Perhaps Babette Caluya at Harpo's Pizza in Holiday Mart is waiting to be discovered. 3: There are many prices aspiring actors must pay and sacrifices they must make to make the "big time." However, Mark Villar tallies up prices at Foodland instead. 4: Artwork and the creativity to produce it is vital in a movie's special effects. Here, James Kane-shiro produces airbrush "paintings" for customers. 5: The employment of actual costumes in a movie can add to its location and atmosphere. Adorned in a kukui nut lei and lawa lawa, David Alipio would be appropriate for an island-made film. 6: Helping one another helps to create a good movie. Assisting a friend, Nancy Simpliciano makes her job more worthwhile.

TRYING OUT

Year after year, they converge upon the dream city and seek out its genie lamps, magic wells, and ethereal movie screens.

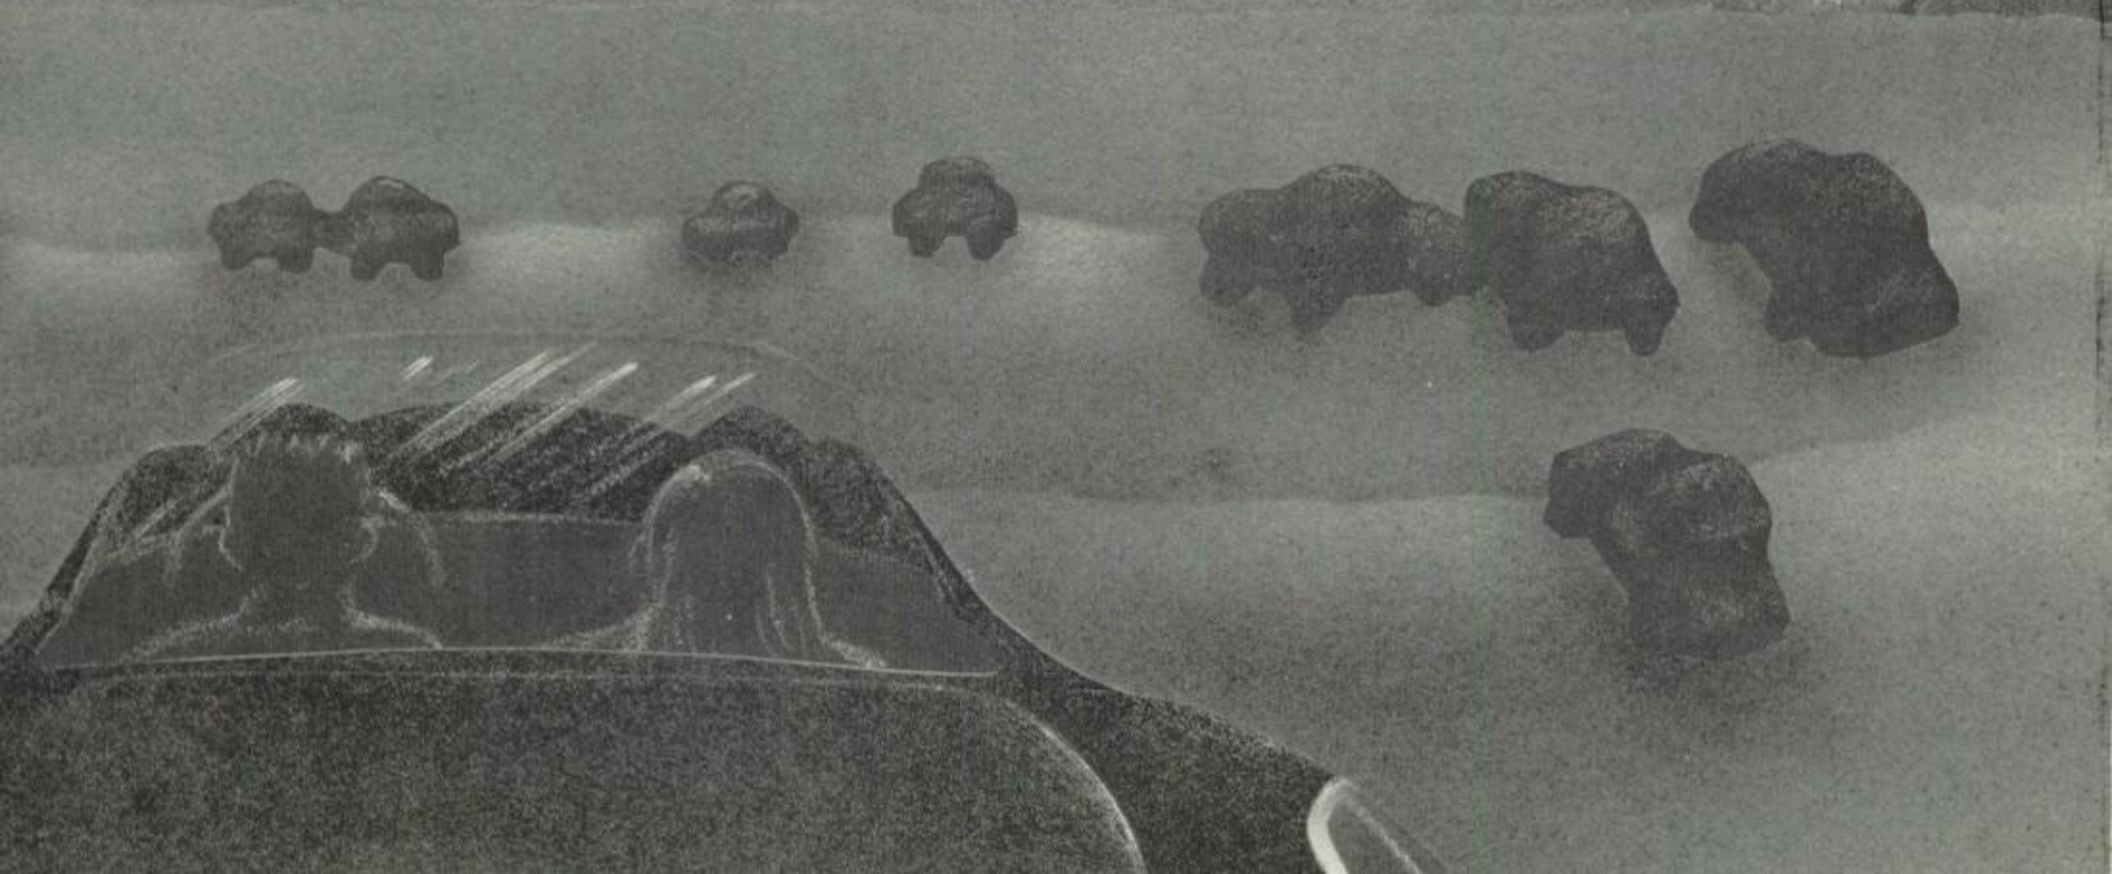

SO, YOU WANT TO BE A STAR?

The newly arrived freshmen take up the challenge of surviving here at this large institution of about 2,500 students. Like their counterparts in Hollywood, the stars-to-be struggle, make contacts in the business, turn in resume after resume, and spend long, hard hours perfecting their special talents and learning their craft.

New challenges and minor accomplishments give the freshmen a renewed sense of optimism and determination. They eventually adjust to the routines and become a part of student life. They have one advantage over novices in the cinematic world; although they may start at the bottom, they will certainly make it to the top!

Everyone is asking, "Who's that class?!" as the freshmen take the top spot in the first competition pep rally of the year. Star-struck are Joey Willis, Tanya Lifa, Papu Lamavita, Amoreena Young, Sheri Pia, and Robyn Pacheco as they display their trophy.

Dear Class of 1991,
Congratulations on an outstanding first year of support, pride, and enthusiasm as representatives of Pearl City High School. You have "charged" forward on your quest for the stars. Truly, you are the children of the stars in your hopes and dreams. I thank you for your support and cooperation. May the stars be yours today but may the universe be yours tomorrow.

"We got spirit, yes we do! We got spirit how about you?" Despite their youth & lack of experience the freshmen took the school by storm, holding their own against the other classes.

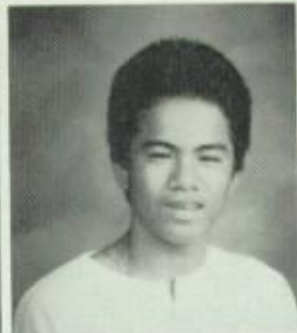

High school. This is the destination of the Starship Freshmen, the purpose of its four year mission: to explore strange new subjects and unfamiliar classrooms, to seek out new faces and student activities, and to boldly go where no ordinary teenager has gone before . . . the school bathrooms!! High school is the ultimate frontier for a newly recruited freshman, a place where the accumulated experiences of elementary and junior high school clash with the alien wonders of PCHS to culminate in the brilliant finalization of a person's vital period in life: the teenage years. It is often hard for incoming freshmen to adjust on the first day to the foreign cultures and outworldly denizens of high school. An entirely new bell system, a set of unmapable corridors and passageways, and strange, bug-eyed teachers can make even the bravest ninth grader cringe with terror. Countless tales are told of poor freshmen who wandered into the wrong classroom, or who were locked out by a hostile instructor. Still, Despite such unthinkable perils, there are some valiant freshmen who fight courageously on during their first day, and these lucky survivors eventually come to find that PCHS has some good merits and surprisingly outstanding programs to offer.

ORGANIZATIONS

Behind The Scenes

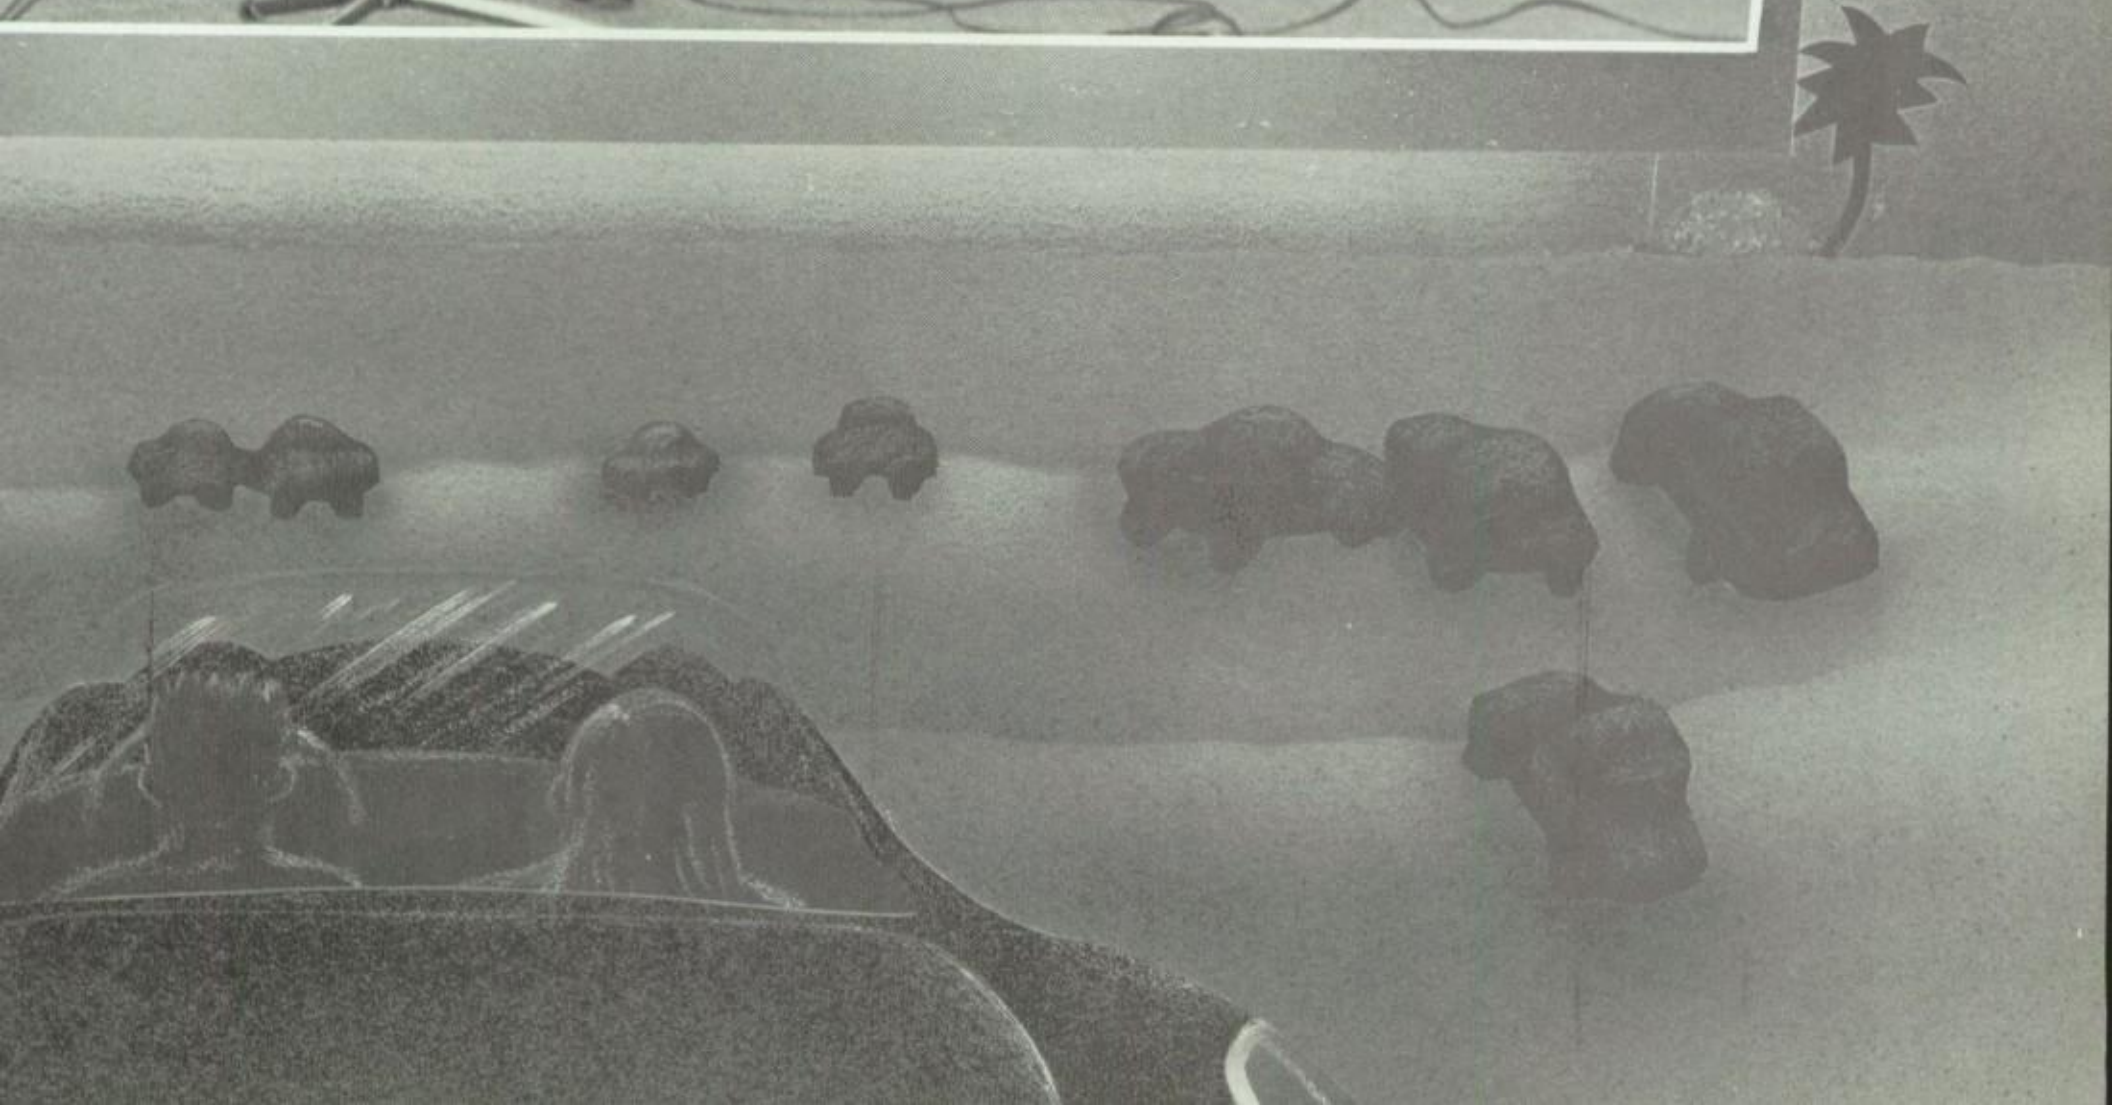

Whenever you go to see a movie, do you think about the people behind the scenes? Most people watch a movie for pure enjoyment. You don't think about the director, producers, or stunt men. You want to just sit back, relax and enjoy the movie. But many people work long hours doing scenes over and over, day after day, rushing to meet the demands of the regular movie goers.

Likewise, here at PCHS, there are many students who give up their lunch hours, afterschool, and weekends to make our high school years more memorable ones. They put up with complaints of dissatisfied students. But when a project falls in place, they feel the satisfaction of a job well done. Usually, no one remembers to say "Thanks."

So this one's for all of you out there that helped to make the memories of PCHS great ones - Thanks a million.

Frank Delima and Na Kolohe pay tribute to the Year of the Hawaiian as the audience roars in appreciation.

Friends For

A Lifetime

... Friends are friends forever
And you'll always be my friend,
And a friend will not say, "Never,"
Cause the welcome will not end.
Though it's hard to let you go,
In my heart I'll always know
That a lifetime's not too long to live as friends.

So often we sit and think about the way things were
The fun and friends,
the joy we all had
and the times of just being together...
Of course there were some days,
times we wondered how we made it.
But our friendship helped us through.
Now we may be separated,
But the bond is still there.
Friendship holds us together.

The 3 Musketeers

If there's someone you can talk to Someone no one can replace
If there's someone you can laugh with
Till the tears run down your face...
If there's someone you can turn to
When you need a helping hand
If there's someone you can count on
To advise and understand...
If there's someone you can sit with
And not need to say a word
If there's someone you can think more of
As each year comes to an end-
You're a very lucky person
For you've found yourself a Special Friend!

US Girls

You are the one who makes each day fun,
You are the one who gives me your kind of love.

You seem to be the perfect friend,
So I know we'll be together till the end.
For no matter what, you're always there,
And no matter what, you always care.

A part of you has grown in me.
Together for always and never apart,
Maybe in distance, but never in heart!

The Best Of Friends

Did you know that before you came into my life
Some kind of miracle that I survived
Someday we will all look back and have to laugh
We lived through a lifetime and the aftermath
This is the time to remember
Cuz it will not last forever

-Billy Joel-

I am your friend
with whom you can talk to and share your dreams.

I am your friend
who can warm your heart
as only friends do.

I am your friend
the one that shares your joys
and also your sorrows.

I am your friend
today, tomorrow, and
FOREVER!

STUDENT LIFE

In The Spotlight

The stars and starlets are here, the movie cameras are rolling, the brilliant lights are shining!!! Ladies and gentlemen, socialites or otherwise, welcome to the silver screen . . . welcome to Hollywood!!! The city of dreams is famous for its gala movie premieres, headline-making weddings and colossal celebrations for multi-million dollar motion pictures. These extravagant events are spectacles to be seen, unequaled arrays of visual and audio brilliance and psychedelic stimulation.

Like Hollywood, PCHS also has its festive occasions and grand celebrations complete with shining lights and worshipped "gods and goddess." Homecoming Week, Sr. Prom, Winterball . . . these are magic titles in the hearts and minds of all, symbols of a radiant life-energy and a way of life that is uniquely Pearl City's. Such royal activities bring out throngs of converging body masses which gather together to both hail and exemplify the spirit of PCHS. It is a time when emotions are rampant and excitement has bitten virtually every single student. After all, who can forget the thrill and glamour of the Winterball, splendidly dancing with hearts pressed close to the steady rhythm of soft romantic sounds underneath the silver ornaments and mistle toe . . . aaahh. Or how about Homecoming, with the heart-pounding excitement and non-stop exhilaration of the Homecoming Parade. We march down the streets of Pearl City, screaming at the peak of our vocal cords while escorting the sacred Class Float. The day is climaxed by the ultimate conflict of spirit as well as sport, a breath-taking spectacle of bone-crushing, face-smashing FOOTBALL!!!

Finally, there is the ultimate extravaganza: the Senior Prom. It is the event for a soon-to-be graduating 12th grader, the heart-touching, tear-wrenching experience that is the finalization of the bittersweet four-year adventure that is high school. It is a night of sparkling lights, decorations, and the unforgettable music of a generation—lovely people dressed in fine tuxedos and sensuous gowns, a lasting still picture in time. Together with that cherished someone it is a time when emotions can be surrendered to the winds and only the good memories can enter one's heart, crossroads between the fantasy of our goals and wishes and the reality of a senior's future life ahead of him.

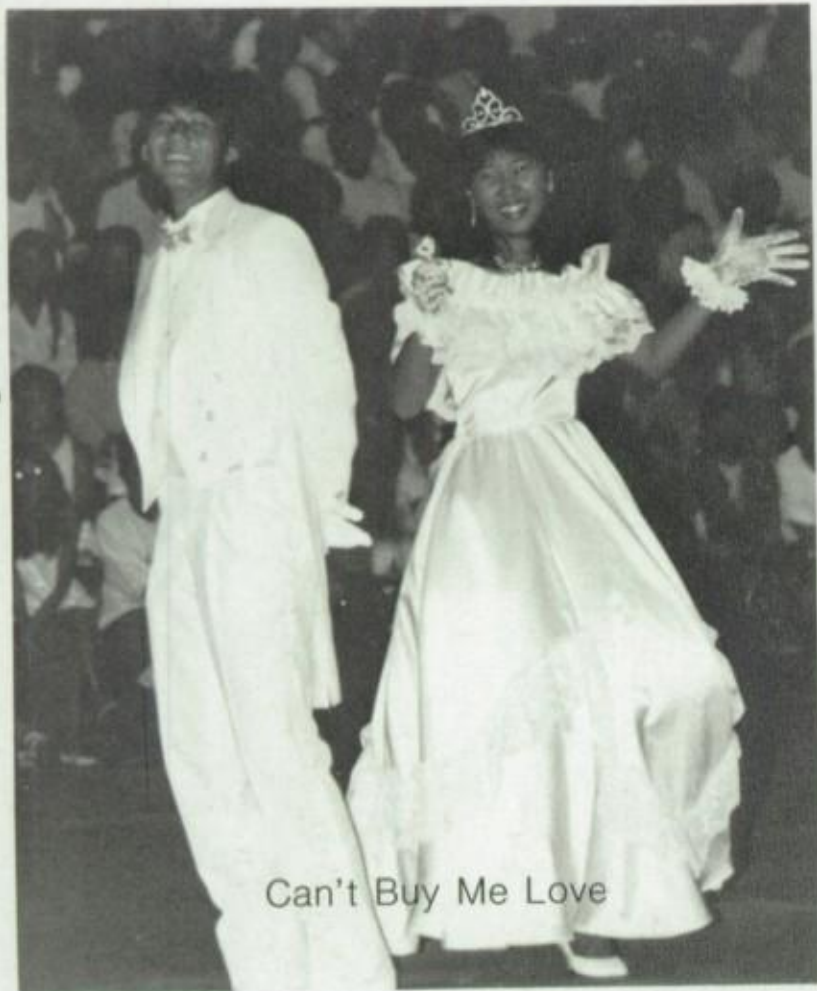

Those royal activities which are experienced over the course of four years are the cherished movie reels that can never be lost or misplaced. Indeed, like the stars brilliant in the night sky, they will remain in our lives eternally as our own little "Hollywood" extravaganzas.

How about a hand for the 1987-1988 kings and queens of PCHS as they introduce to you the awesome section of Royal Courts. From left to right: Homecoming's King Shane Uemoto and Queen Tricia Tamayose, Junior Prom's King Wray Kakugawa and Queen Stacey Sato, Senior Prom's King Gino Quinones and Queen Jaimie Yamauchi, and Winterball's King Jason Hagiwara and Queen Michelle Nakayama.

Homecoming. It has an undefinable magic, a magnetic spell, over its dreamers' Homecoming is a time of magic and emotion-weaving. It literally affects our lives, the hearts and persona. It creates a binding unity between us. The upper- and under- classmen unite in celebration of our own dream capitol, Pearl City High School. Magic spells are directly cast upon people; emotional hostilitites and inter-class rivalry become lessened, even dissipated, by the Homecoming magic. Homecoming is truly a golden memory and an unforgettable moment of unity, love, and appreciation between previously unrelated people and groups that can never be forgotten.

Mrs. Ishihara

On Sept. 11, 1987, PCHS officially recognized the newly completed stadium which for a long time was the elusive dream of an entire school and one special individual, Edwin "Bino" Neves. Originally planned to have taken place in the beautiful stadium itself, the locale of the dedication ceremony was changed to the athletic gym when an intermittent shower of rain occurred. Mrs. Mike Ishihara commented, however, that Mr. Neves' wish had been to have the dedication ceremony take place in the gym where he had dedicated most of his life. Throughout the entire ceremony, it was as if Mr. Neves had never left us. The stadium symbolised the entire life of an honorable man who sincerely and unselfishly dedicated himself to the PCHS athletic program. In every athletic or academic endeavor we undertake, Edwin "Bino" Neves will be by our side always, his gentle soul and wisdom existing eternally as a source of encouragement for all PCHS generations.

Messages from the King and Queen

I would like to thank my friends for allowing me to hold this honor. I have spent 4 great years here at PCHS, and this honor is the "icing on the cake".

I couldn't have done as well if not for: my parents-for their unconditional love and support; my friends for their time and effort and Mrs. Ota-whose energy, enthusiasm, and encouragement was a source of inspiration-I'll never forget you. -Jason Hagiwara.

These past 4 years will remain in my heart always. I have made many special friends with teachers and students.

During the time I have spent here at PCHS I've learned many things. In addition to English, math, and science, I learned I should always be the person I want to be. I thank my family and friends for understanding me through it all.

When I got the news of making it for Winterball queen, I was really shocked! It's an honor I only dreamed of. I never thought it would become a reality. It makes all the hard work worth while! -Michelle Nakayama

Rehearsing

Sophomore year — we're no longer the new kids on the block. We spend our time refining our craft, rehearsing and waiting for that big moment. Our star is now in view; we must be seen, be heard, be noticed! We are ready to make our big move — to be discovered and to make it to the top!

Advisor's Message

Class of 1990,
Thank you for the tremendous support you have shown towards Pearl City High. It has been a pleasure to have worked with you for another year. I am truly impressed with the growth you have made as "Super Sophomores". Next year will be even greater!

Aloha,

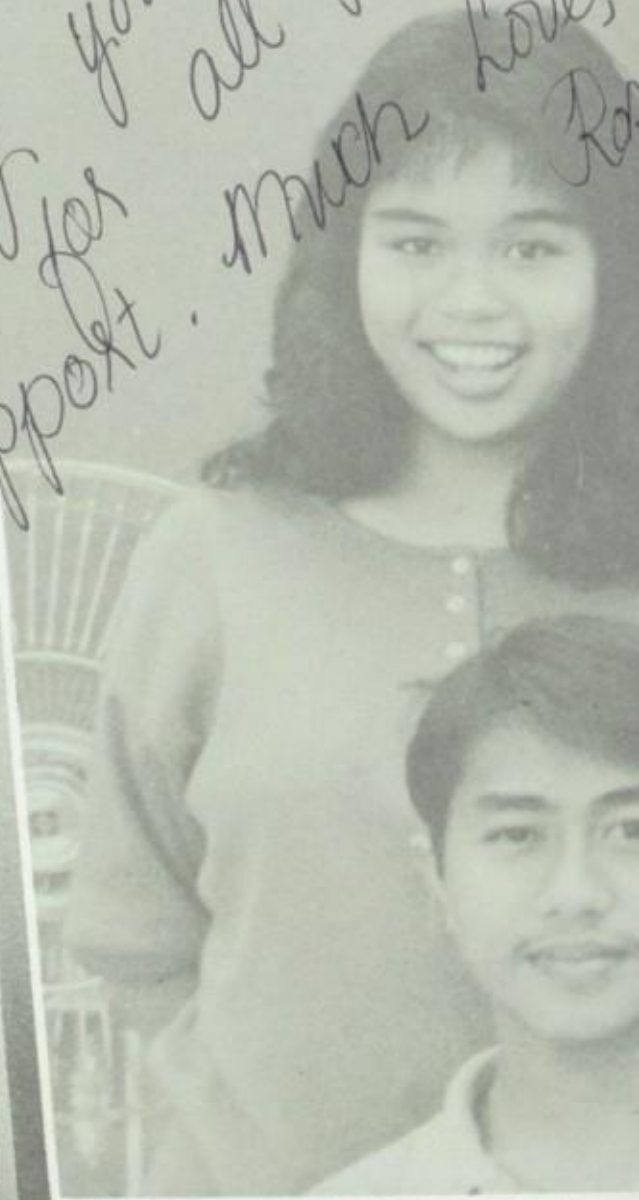

David Kagawa

The Secret of Our Success . . .

is due entirely to our outstanding advisor, Mr. David Kagawa, president, Rosemarie Reyno; vice-president, Kathy Takeuchi; secretary, Jenny Wakumoto; and treasurer, Herbert Cudiamat. All four officers participate in many different extracurricular activities, not including Songfest and Sophomore Banquet.

Actors and actresses are the dream-weavers of the movies whom we admire and love. A handsome hunk or a ravaging, beautiful bombshell steals our hearts away and takes us into the perfect, happy world of the cinema. Don't we just envy them- their success, their fame, the power which they have over the common mortals such as ourselves? Who are our Hollywood idols, our examples for our dreams and our lives?

ACADEMICS

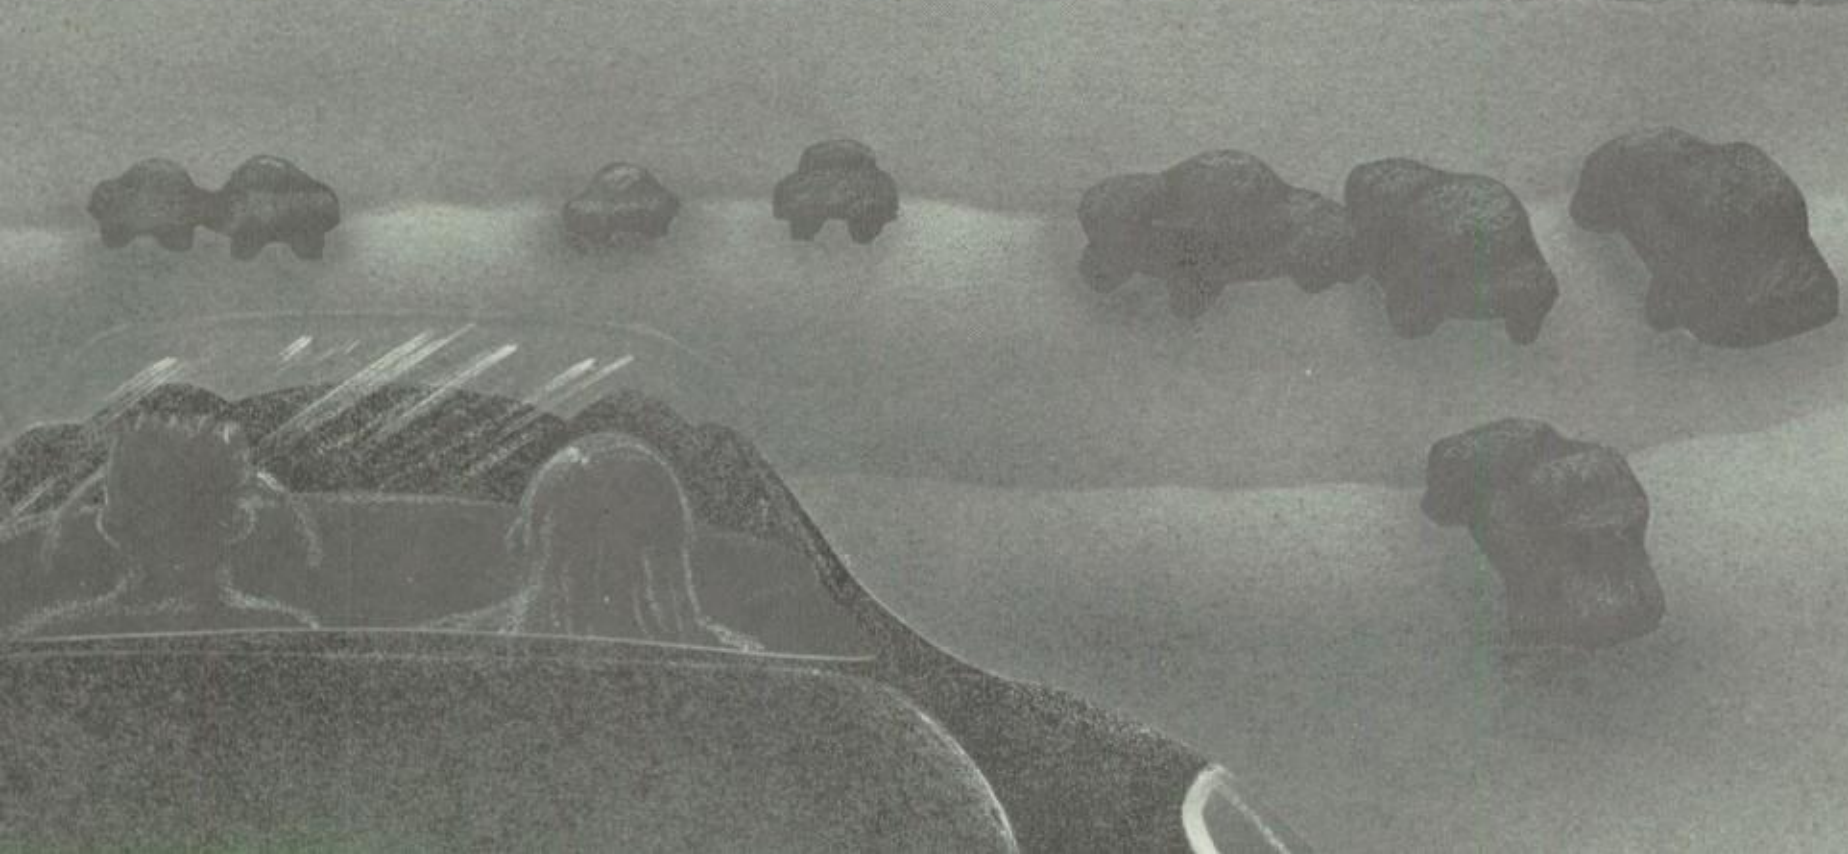

Production Crew

Gone with the Wind, A Passage to India, On Golden Pond ... what would these classic pictures of the cinema have been without the expert guidance and precision control of the movie director? The director is one of the most important and honored people in Hollywood, rivaled only by the actor or actress. Directors are the backbone of any film, whether it's an epic saga or a simple swords and sorcery flick. They are the administrators, directing the actions of every member on the set and providing the crew with the cinematic know-how and "feel for success" gained only through years of experience. Often, they must bear the unwelcome burden of the entire picture. Whenever the actor or actress has trouble remembering the lines, the screenwriter comes into conflict with the story writer, the producer fails to get a deal through for much-needed funds, or the special effects crew has a set explosion for the hundredth time, they will invariably turn to the poor director for help. Even after years of such undesirable circumstances and harsh dues-paying, even the most expert and famed director will encounter such situations. It very often appears to be a hopeless, no-win situation, but still a director will carry on in the valiant hope of creating a Hollywood masterpiece.

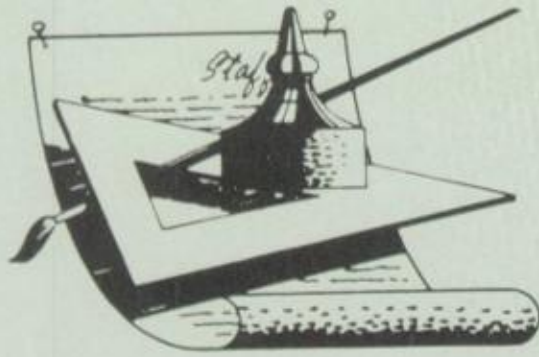

Here at P.C.H.S., we are fortunate enough to have our own dedicated directors in the form of our administration, faculty, and supportive staff. These devoted people are the backbone of our "city of dreams". Like motion picture directors, they often take the brunt of any criticism, slurs, or cries for help. The movers and shakers on campus, they enlighten us, occasionally reprimand us, and always keep their omniscient gaze over us. When glory and triumph touch us, we realize the compassion, mercy, and unfaltering courage they possess. The directors of the "dream city" ultimately achieve success despite whatever happens.

One of the highlights of the Christmas Assembly was the performance of the Pidgin English version of "Da 12 Days of Christmas" by the faculty. Mr. Langen lead the mass singing while "Tutu," the gorilla with "eight ukuleles," and one of the "seven shrimps a-swimming" ham it up for the audience.

Principal's Message

Congratulations to the Class of '88!!!! The hard work you put in the last four years has finally paid off. You are starting an era in your lives that is both full of excitement and anxiety. I hope we have contributed positively to your growth so that you may be better able to handle all the challenges of your post high school lives.

For those of you who will return, I wish you a pleasant and fun-filled summer. When you return in September, I look for a new start and a renewed commitment to prepare for your future. The preparation simply means that you will need to study and sharpen your academic and life skills.

Aloha,

Gerald Suyama

Cafeteria

Students can find nutritious lunches made fresh everyday, thanks to our ever efficient cafeteria staff headed by Mr. Shane Kitano. There are seven food counters. "Counter four" lunches - fast food - are great. You can take them almost anywhere. If you want to sit down to eat, there are "hot lunches." No matter what you choose, everything is good.

Our hardworking cafeteria staff toils over the cooking appliances to provide us with delicious lunches. Left: Students collect their lunches.

Custodians

Evidence once again that our hardworking custodians are at work. Mrs. Thelma Suzuki, an established custodian, last year attempted what equals the building of the Eiffel Tower; make grass grow! Impossible? Not for this determined custodian. Just one year later, grass abounds on the area next to "A" building. Thanks, Mrs. Suzuki!

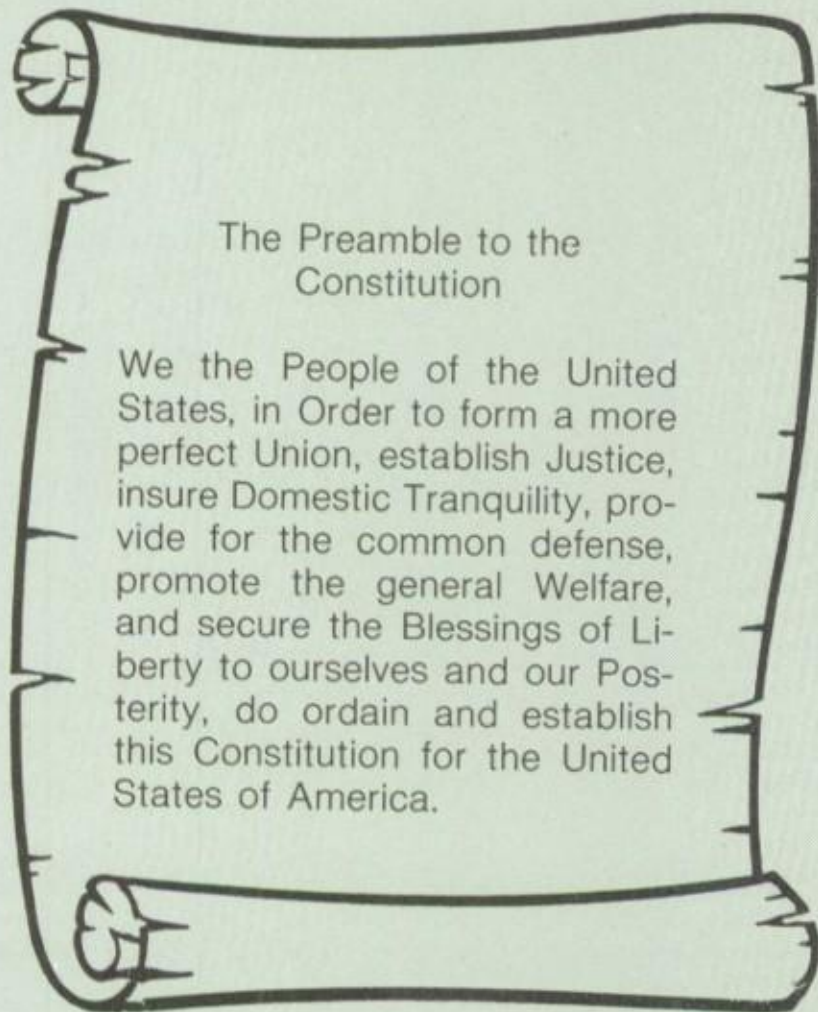

Tolentino, Jaime

On November 20, 1987, the school received a phone call stating - of all things - that at 2:30 p.m. that day, a bomb would go off in the KLM complex. The area was evacuated; nothing ever came of it, thankfully. Here, Mrs. Higuchi and Mrs. Ogawa show their surprise at the news.

Professor Jon Van Dyke and Mrs. Jacalyn Arakawa, librarian, pose for a picture in front of the Constitutional display in the library.

October 29, Professor Jon Van Dyke of the University of Hawaii came to our school to speak about the Constitution. He discussed many ideas and basic facts about the Constitution. Among them was the fact that many countries including Guam and Fiji, modeled their constitutions after ours. The Professor is an attorney-at-law and currently resides here in Hawaii.

Aids across the United States has hit epidemic proportions. The State, in an effort to curb the growing number of AIDS cases in Hawaii, sent nurses and technicians to schools all over the islands. Accreditation Pearl City High School underwent a self-evaluation process this year in order to receive official approval as an accredited school. We were last accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges in 1980-81. At that time, we were granted the maximum six years term of accreditation. Through the process of accreditation, we had an opportunity to reflect on our achievements and make plans for the future. This process also ensured that Pearl City High School has met an acceptable level of quality in accordance with the general criteria adopted by the Accreditation Commission.

Directed Studies

Pearl City High School launched a new program this year. The Directed Studies course provided a class period within the school day for a student to pursue in-depth research/activities relating to a specific project that required more time than the regular class could accommodate. Unlike the Directed Studies classes in other schools which have a class in only one content area, PCHS' Directed Studies class was composed of students in many different subject areas — social studies, art, science, visual communication, English, computer science, and applied music. The students worked independently with the assistance of a mentor who was either a staff member or a community resource person, such as Dean Sensui, a 1974 graduate and staff photographer for the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, and Nate of Nate's Photography. Credit was given for completed work which demonstrated skills in research, experimentation, and communication.

JUNIORS

Getting Your Act Together

Junior year is the year when we finally hit our stride. We've come a long way from being shy freshmen as we begin to get a general idea of what we want for our future. We have realized that there's a time to be serious and a time to have fun. As we mature into confident young adults, we know that finally we've got our act together.

Advisor's Message

Dear Juniors,
What an exciting and challenging year we've had, one that we can reflect upon with many fond memories.

Thanks to the dedicated officers, representatives, and chairpersons working side-by-side with their faculty advisors, we have seen many of our goals materialize.

There are dreams and challenges yet to fulfill with enthusiasm as you proudly enter your senior year. Remember, only through team work, cooperation, and participation from all of you can your dreams become a reality.

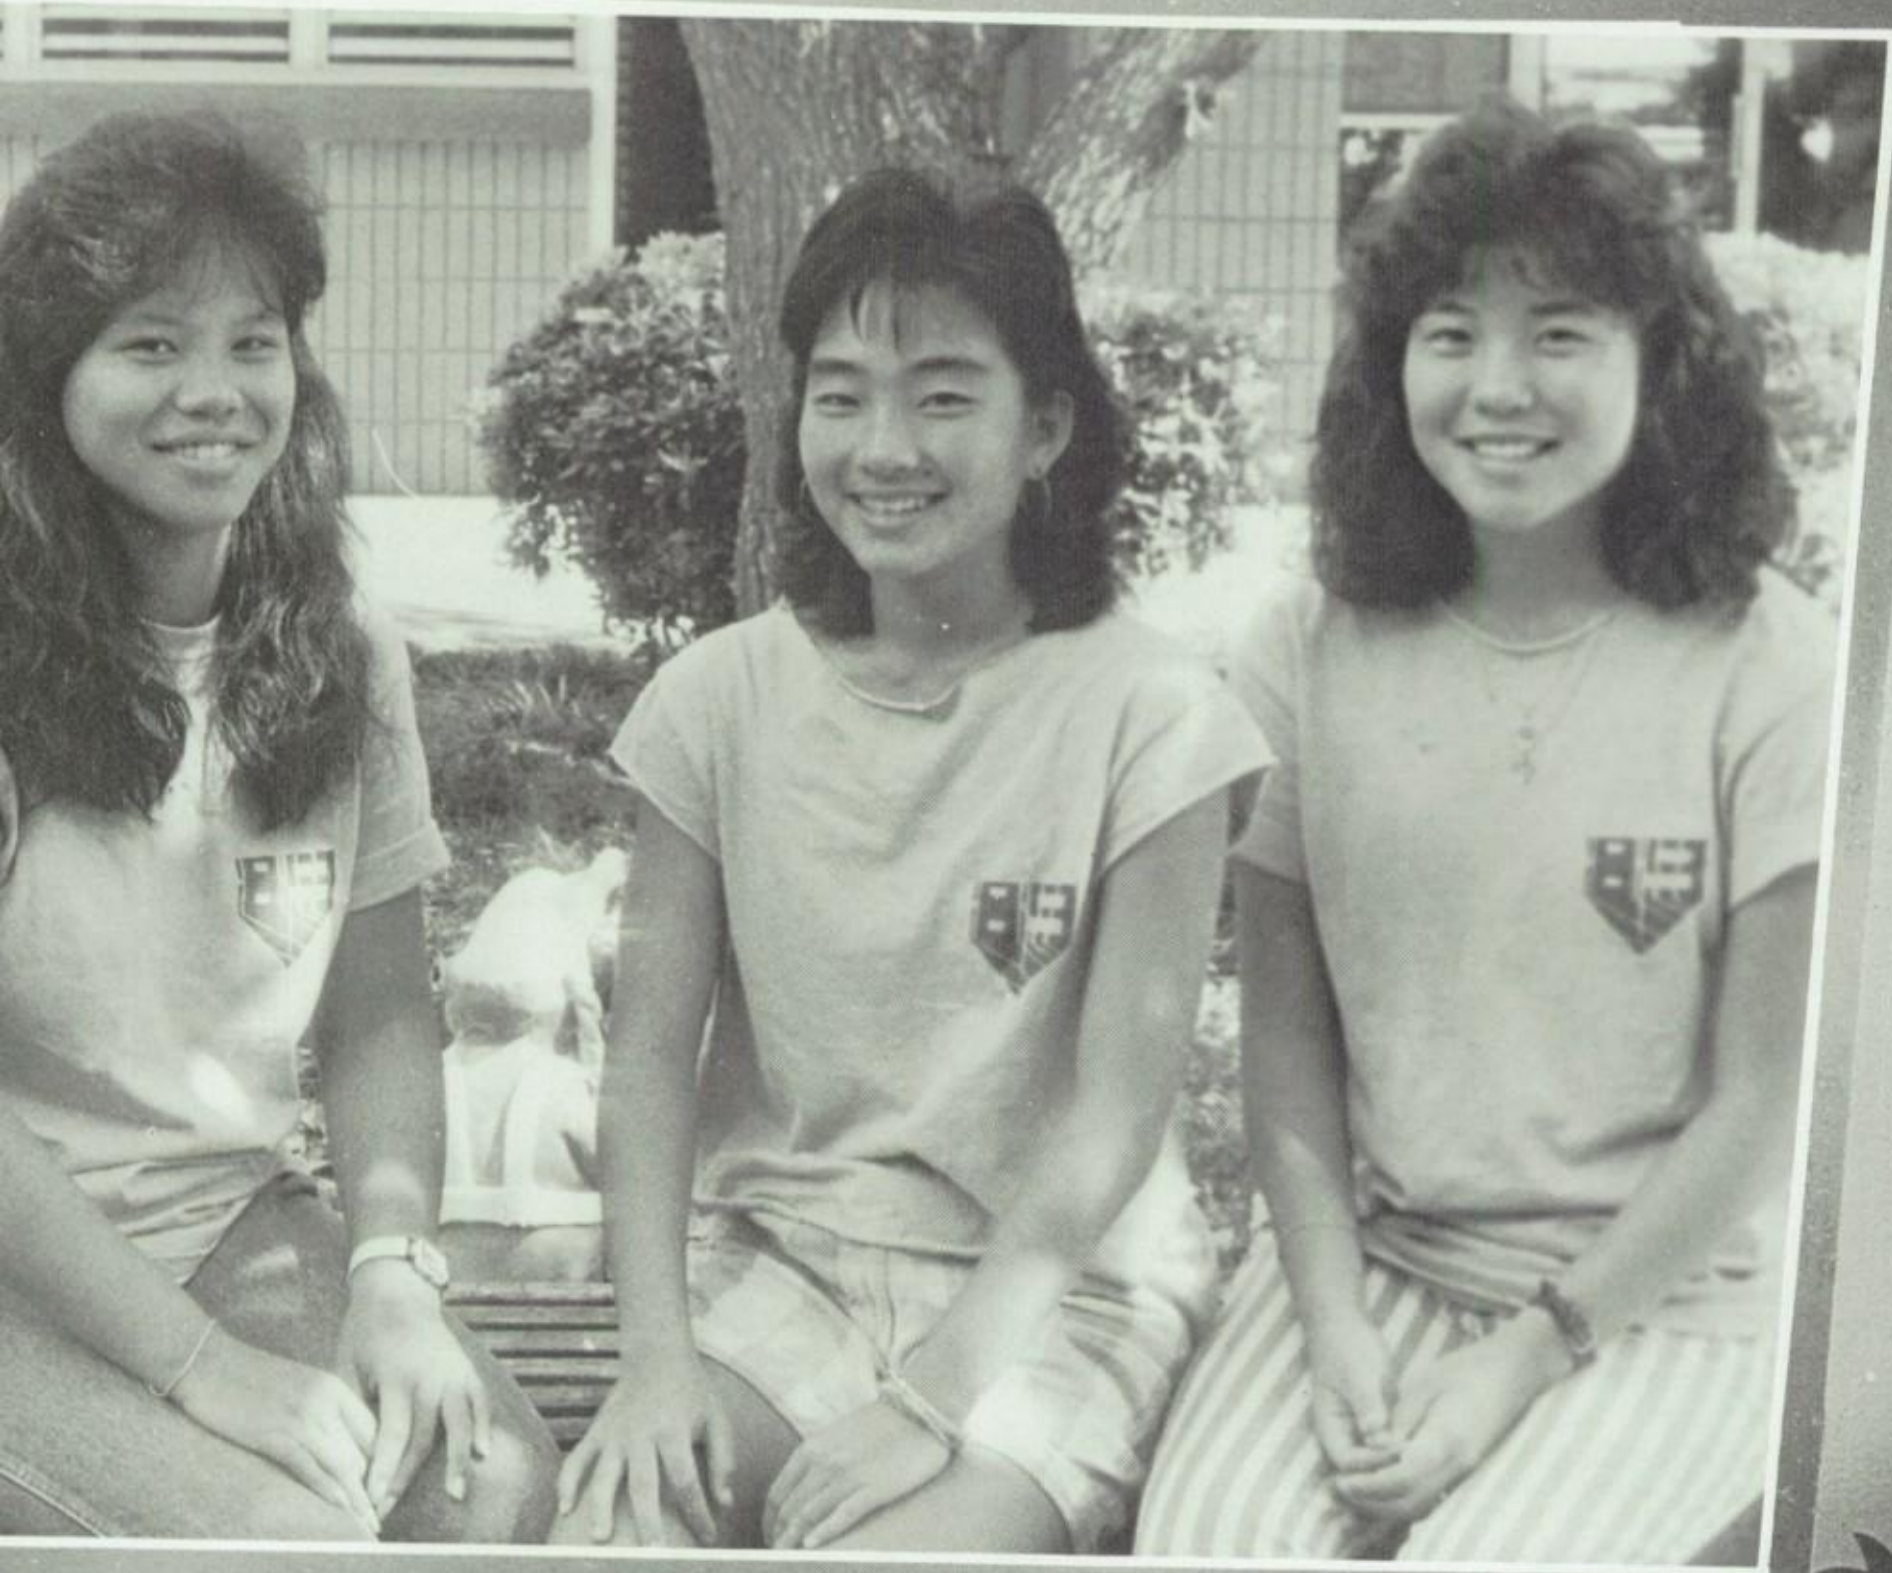

"OUR STRENGTH WILL COME FROM OUR SPIRIT OF TOGETHERNESS."

With love,

Charlene Quast

The art of writing is one of the most demanding careers and means of self-expression. Writing is a harsh craft that only the bravest soul can take up. Here at PCHS there exists one such brave person who has dared to take on an incredible, glorious burden of pursuing the crafts of transmitting magic into prose, Robert A. Pacheco.

Robert is one of the very few people here at PCHS who can truly be called "real writers". He has been actively involved in writing since elementary school. Most of Robert's work have a strong leaning towards philosophy and politics, as well as social and moral issues. He is currently immersed in several creative projects, essay scholarship contests and the writing of his first book entitled, Cacophony.

In addition to writing, Robert is involved in extracurricular activities. He is President of the Serv-Teens club, an organization for gifted and talented youth, and is the chairperson of the Student Government Legislative Committee. He is an active member of the speech and Mock trial teams. Despite the busy work, Robert has maintained an impressive 3.67 GPA.

In the future, he intends to pursue a direction in either writing or politics, with an emphasis on influencing the international sphere and campaigning for a better world. Robert will concentrate his efforts on polishing writing skills. Hali'a Aloha sincerely wishes the greatest of successes to Robert.

Walk Of Stars

Immortalized in the hallowed reaches of the "dream city" are the champions, the inextinguishable beacons of the cinematic screen. Actors and actresses, directors and producers strive constantly for excellence to ultimately achieve the level of artistry which will grant them entrance to a single, glorified stretch of pavement in Hollywood wherein lies their symbols of achievement, the "Walk of Stars."

In our ordinary world, the athletes are living, breathing subjects of our dreams, possessors of physical perfection and anatomical beauty. Less fortunate individuals both idolize and envy their attributes. Entire countries plant their total hopes and aspirations upon them. The athlete's triumph is a major victory for a nation's respectability and distinction in the global sphere. Like "Rocky" or "The Natural," "The Champ" or the hopeful athletes in "Chariots of Fire," real-life athletes inspire us.

What makes the difference between the athlete and an ordinary person? Commitment, pain, sweat, tears, defeat, exhilaration, stamina, victory — these words describe the athlete in action. Most of us feel these experiences vicariously. The athletes are the individuals who rise to the challenge and hone their skills to a keen competitive edge. The stars are the ones who emerge above the rest and gain the full measure of personal reward and adulation. Regardless of whether we are participants or observers, we all are enhanced from the collective experience.

The final team handshake is the ritual which marks the end of an athletic contest. Regardless of who the winners are, the participants all are victorious in their achievement, i.e., playing the game and giving their best effort.

J.V. Football

Working together and being together was what the J.V football season was all about. Finishing with a record of 3 wins and 5 losses, the team still was proud of their accomplishments and felt their efforts were still worthwhile. They were challenged and strove constantly to improve themselves. They knew that the power came from team work first, and the results were firm friendships and hope for a better season next year.

The 1987 season was a time unprecedented in the history of PCHS varsity football, a moving experience which struck the hearts of the players and their supporters. After many countless years of struggle and fierce combat in other schools' stadiums, PCHS finally acquired a football battlefield of our own: the magnificent Bino Neves Stadium. This season marked the dawn of a new glorious chapter in PCHS sports as the "awesome" Varsity Chargers conducted their battles for the first time in THEIR own stadium. Although from an objective standpoint, they suffered heavy losses culminating with a final 2-6 record, a deeper, more significant victory was achieved. The pigskin Chargers gained pride and faith in their school through their earnest struggle. Under the watchful eyes of Mr. Bino Neves, the pride of victory and real fulfillment have been cemented for the Varsity Chargers. Next time, the Chargers will repay Bino Neves for the limitless aid he gave and will take the OIA by storm- NO MATTER WHAT !

ARAGAKI PACES CC TEAM BY Jason Higa

Although the Charger boys' cross country team were considered heavy underdogs in just about every meet, they were still able to pull through strong performances to place high in the standings. Senior Aaron Aragaki was largely responsible for this outcome with his superior running performance.

In the western divisional meet, Aragaki was able to capture the individual title while pacing through the three-mile course in 16 minutes three seconds. His efforts, however, didn't prove quite enough. The Chargers finished a very strong second. Other strong performers were Paul Malone(4th), Nathan Aragaki(10th), and Greg Hurd(13th).

The course then took the Charger team to the OIA championships where they fell to the fourth place standing out of 21 schools. In this competition, Aragaki again turned in an excellent show as he finished second, just 15 seconds behind the leader.

Their last stop, the state meet, was quite a dismal but satisfying one. The Chargers fell to a 7th place finish with Aragaki placing eighth.

Bowling

Girls' Bowling: Coach Blanche Ito

Our girls' bowling team steadily climbed up the ladder of success by winning most of the time. One of the most exciting games bowled was the West championship game against Nanakuli. Pearl City went neck to neck in the first game and lost by only one pin. They went on to win the second game and lost the last game. As it turned out, the championship was decided in the first game by one pin! Lorelei Rodrigues, our only senior, went on to place 5th in the state finals at Hilo. The team placed 4th overall. Captain of the team was Gerraine Yoshitome. Our girls did a splendid job.

Boys' Bowling: Coach Lydia Yoshishige, Kyle Kihara, Asst.

The boys' team was up against some tough competition and qualification was one of the problems they faced. Korey Shiramizu, captain, Eugene Barnes and Earnest Tiede went on to Hilo for the state individuals where Eugene placed 15. During the season, Korey bowled a 265 game.

Lorelei Rodrigues bowls a strike.

Girls' Volleyball

The varsity girls' volleyball team did it! They not only won the OIA Girls' Volleyball title, after defeating Moanalua and ending the season with a 24-4 record, but they went on to place second in the State to University High School. The varsity boys' also did a superior job. They recaptured the OIA title for the third straight year. They rounded out the year with a 15-4 record and fourth place in the State finals. The J.V. girls' did rather well. They pulled out with a 5-4 record and a seed of 6 in their second round of play in the Western Division. Good going, Chargers!

1) The girls' volleyball team enjoy their 2nd place state finish. 2) The families of the players provide support throughout the season. Here, the family of Alicia Nobriga congratulate her. 3) Randolyn Manewa goes up to block the ball as teammates look on. 4) Faye Kurosawa and Jamie Pahukula celebrate their victory.

Wrestling

Rule 3

Determination . . .

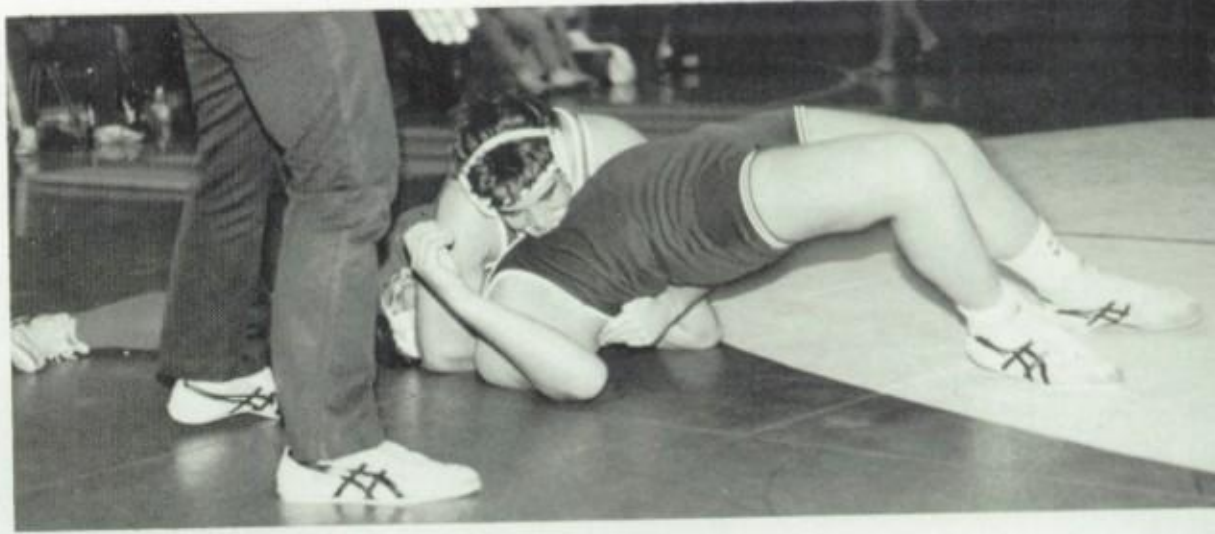

The Key To

Winning

You shake hands, the whistle blows, the match begins. You hear the yells from your teammates and coaches. "Half!" "Cradle!" "Don't give up!" Then it happens, he's down for the pin. The crowd roars. It's over. Was it the help from the coaches? The long hours of grueling practice? Or just plain DETERMINATION? Although your coaches and teammates are there for encouragement, when you're down on the mat, it's you alone who will determine the outcome.

In December, 1987 both varsity and J.V. teams took on the self discipline of tough diet plans and strenuous exercise routines which paid off in the end. Congratulations to both teams and coaches Aranayado, Hema, and Wagner for a terrific season.

This year's golf team was made up of six spirited Chargers. Their practices were held at the Pearl Country Club on Tuesdays and Thursday, and their games were on Mondays. Mr. Hueu, the teams coach, felt that they were having a good year. "Our best golfers are Larry Ordonio, who golfs between an 80 and 81. The rest of the team is new." Congratulations, golfers, on a winning year.

Swimming Their Way To Success . . .

This year's swimming team consisted of eleven swimmers: five Freshmen, one Sophomore, two Juniors, and three Seniors. Practices began at 5 p.m. and ended at 6:30 p.m. While practicing, each swimmer swam 5,000 yards a day. This paid off for the Chargers by allowing them to capture the Western Division Championship and to place third in the State. Congratulations for a job WELL done!

"Necks! One . . . two . . . three . . . Shoulders! One . . . two . . . three . . . Okay. Eight laps!"

This year's girls' varsity basketball team consisted of six seniors, three juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman. The team went through hours of grueling practices to prepare themselves for their tough opponents. But as they say, practice makes perfect. In the first game of the season, our girls, who had lost to the Radford team in the past three years, beat them by two points. With the tough training from Coach Miles Okamoto, the girls have hopes for the Western Division Championships. Good Luck!

SENIORS

Final Take

The final take . . . words that all stars both love and hate to hear . . . means the end of all the hard work and pain which carried us from being unknown freshmen to becoming veteran senior stars. Memories of the friendships, special events, and daily routines will soon be treasured only in each heart, along with the trials of the four year long movie entitled "High School."

As star veterans, we often found ourselves in the spotlight, playing leading roles in various activities. Whether it was king or queen of a court, president of an organization, or just being a senior, with the support of the production crew, our co-stars, and our parents, we were a hit!

Our success doesn't have to end after high school. Although the Senior Class of 1988 will graduate and go their separate ways, whether it be to further education, a career, the military, or the beginning of a new family, Ka Ohana O '88 (the family of '88) will continue to live in all of us.

Keep reaching for those stars, seniors, and good luck in whatever your future brings.

Dear Seniors,
As graduation approaches, our year together is drawing to a close. I want to thank you for all the help and support you have given me. You are a great class, filled with truly special people. I know it was difficult changing advisors your senior year. I could never replace Mrs. Ota; I could only be myself. So as you will begin a new part of your journey through life. Hopefully the years you have spent here have given you a good foundation to face the challenges and problems of the adult world. My advice to you is always be yourself, don't be afraid to ask for help; and never stop learning. I am proud to have been a part of Leialoha 0'88. I will miss you!

With much aloha,

In Loving Memory Of Mrs. Vivien Ota

"TO THOSE I LOVE"

If I should ever leave you whom I love
To go along the Silent Way, grieve not,
Nor speak of me with tears, but laugh and talk
Of me as if I were beside you there.
(I'd come — I'd come, could I but find a way!
But would not tears and grief be barriers?)
And when you hear a song or see a bird
I loved, please do not let the thought of me
Be sad ... For I am loving you just as I always have ... You were so good to me!
There are so many things I wanted still
To do — so many things to say to you...
Remember that I did not fear ... It was Just leaving you that was so hard to face...
We cannot see Beyond ... But this I know:
I loved you so — 'twas heaven here with you!
by Isla Paschal Richardson

"In life's fleeting moments, it is never too soon nor too late to recognize the meanings and appreciate the offerings of life itself as it passes with you toward uncharted destinies." — an excerpt from a letter by Mr. Herb Ota

On August 10, 1987, Pearl City High School lost not only a beloved teacher, but a person dear to the Class of 1988. This person was Mrs. Vivien Ota, math teacher and Senior Class advisor. Although we all miss her tremendously, we will always remember the love and support that she gave to all. We miss you, Mommy Ota.

EVENTHUGHIDON'T SAY IT OFTEN I LOVE YOU VERY MUCH MOM DAD AND FRIENDS LK

To My Dearest Sis Lani-Girl, Looking back I realize how much our friendship has grown. We've been through a lot together and I'll hold those memories in a special place deep inside my heart. Throughout my life, I have never found a friend so special, just as you are. Thanks for always being there and for understanding me. You are truly my most "bestest" friend. I love you sis, and don't forget that there's no kooks but "Da 2 Kooks!" = SISTAZ ALWAYS = D2K 748 Love, Sis Lilikoi

Dearest Sistaz of the "Ultimate" US GIRLS, It takes half our lives to learn who our true friends are, and the other half to keep them. Just remember and bear in mind that true friends are hard to find. Those special memories will never be forgotten! Love, Sis Li D2K-748

Thank You!! I'll Keep You Close As Always My Heart In All Ways Will Keep The Love That Kept Us Strong Cause A Lifetime Is Not Too Long To Live As Friends. Love, TrishKa'OHanaC'88

To My Dearest Dean, My words can't express how much all of your love and friendship means to me. We've shared something so special that time can never take away from us. I thank God for bringing us and keeping us together. There are so many memories that I will always hold dear to my heart. We stuck it out through good times and bad, and who knows what tomorrow will bring, all I know is that we'll be together to face them. Thank you for supporting me and being there for me when I really needed you. I just want you to know that I'll always be here and with you all the way. "I LOVE YOU, DEAN!!!" PATTY, Whenever things got rough for us you never gave up you've always had so much faith even when it was unfair for you. I always knew you were sincere about everything you did and when life gave you a push-n-shove, it only made you try harder. But there are times you feel is just not worth the fight and these are times you can count on me. It hurts to think I've let you down before but, Pat, no matter what I'm with you all the way! Keep smiling! Keep Shining! Love - Tam

BREN, CORI, JUDY, KIMI, KWAI, LORI, POCHO, SHELL -bell- Gosh! I don't even know where to begin, 2 thank you all so much 4 making my high school years so special We've shared many wonderful memories which can't be enclosed w/ time ... We laughed through happiness & cried through sorrow. As I look ahead, I see w/ sadness that we all must accept the fact, that we will go in different directions U'll all remain in my heart & in my mind, 4 I'll always cherish that special sisterhood U each had 4 me. Best wishes 4 all the joy in the world. In our memories ... Always, Pam c/o 88

BREN, LORI, PAM, SHELL, KIM, JUDY, KWAI, CARRIE, CORI, 76 STATION BOYS & 1 of the greatest joys in my life is our friendship. I don't think either of us suspected, when we first met, that we would stand where we do today, sharing close harmony of our abiding friendship. But we grew 2gether threw the days, sharing laughter and tears, thoughts and silence, all the things that have become an ungettable part of who we are. U have always encouraged me to share myself fully, my hopes, dreams, pains, and sadnesses that I have come 2 understand.

Lisa and Syndy Thanks for being there when eval Kris

Dearest Janis, I know we met for all the wrong reasons. But I'm very thankful for that initial incident, for it made me able to discover you. And even though those reasons still come between us once in a while, nothing is this world will change the way I feel for you, and I will feel this way forever. Cause just being with you is like a dream come true, since I sincerely and deeply love you—Thank you for being that dear someone in my life these past two years. I don't want to even imagine what it would be like without you. I will always treasure the times we've shared and you forever will have a special place in my heart. As for the future-only time knows what's in store, but may it be as it was, once before. Cause Jan I love you so, I can't find enough ways to let you know, but you can be sure I'll love you for always, Cory

Mr. Abe, Lawrence Pelayo, Mark Villan, Stacey Sakuma, Cary Kamehele, Lea Kwon, Ann Nishioka, Sheri Maeda.

Though the times were tough and everybody was getting on each others' nerves, Mr. Abe and his advanced photography class managed to pull through. With their help, the photos for the yearbook were produce. A warm thank you and aloha are expressed to them. Without these talented and dedicated photographers, this yearbook couldn't have been made.

To all my friends,
Thanks a bunch for everything The year has come to an end and things are done. We have made many new friends and lost
some more. We have experienced many new feelings, some
we never thought we could. We also have met with obstacles, which we overcame. Thank you to the whole staff—
You guys made a great book and a lot of memories. To the Rifles and Flags—same as above. Especially to Mrs Ellis—Mum.

Movie Magic

SHARON,

You sit in the darkened theater, eyes riveted to the flickering image ahead. Complete concentration is given to the sights and sounds in the air conditioned environment. The group screams, gasps, laughs, cheers in unison. Sometimes you cry and pretend that you are not crying, slowly sneaking a hand up to brush away a tear so your companion will not notice. Your hand dips into the popcorn, and you try to balance your cold drink and your box of Whoppers in the dark.

Romance is not only on the screen, but in real life as well. Who can forget the thrill of touching elbows with that special someone in the dark? Is it accidental? Or, is he/she returning the pressure and the message you are sending? You bump knees and a shiver runs through your body. You hope the feeling is mutual, and your leg gets numb from the tense position it is in.

The movies are a means of entertainment, a channel for fantasy and dreaming, a catharsis for modern day stress. For five dollars, you can be anywhere you want to be, be anyone you want to be. The money is well spent. You leave the theater, convinced that your life could be better, or satisfied that it is better than what you witnessed on the screen. The opportunity to escape for a little while from our familiar, mundane world allows us to return to it refreshed and eager to take on all challenges.

Sharon,
 Well it has been such a trip knowing you these past years. I am really glad I became your friend.
 Sometimes I do not show it but I do. you have two more years of this fuckin school. you better make sure nobody takes our table next year or the year after. you better keep in touch with Jimmy & you so I know what you are doing the years. Remember if you need a friend you can always come to me.
 Well take care cuz I care.
 God Bless

People come and go like the sun rise and sets, like the summer heat followed by the cool winter, like waves crashing on the sea shore, in all its beauty and wishiness.... Things coming and going.... But a really great friend will always be. a good friend will always stay here in your heart.....
